The assumption that the preacher's sacred attitude is above rhetoric reveals ignorance of the nature of true art. Let us then, at the outset, seek a correct conception of it. And we may be led to this idea by considering the distinction between art and artifice. Art is but the rational adjustment of means to an end.

and Rhetoric becomes the art of eloquent writing. In this extended sense, Rhetoric is the art of eloquence, spoken or written. The notion of eloquence may even drop out, and the art may consist merely in the clear and effective use of language to convey ideas. Rhetoric would thus come to mean the principles of Composition or Essay writing.
